A Valuable Agent.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on ra

During a severe northeast storm which prevailed yesterday along the New Jerdanger, Simpkins' companions made a brave effort to pick him up, but before they were able to do this he sank and was drowned. As the men were about to leave the scene his body came to the surface and they managed to drag it into the lannch.

Shortly after this about five young men who went to Atlantic City in the aloop yacht Virginia from Island Heights left the Inlet for the return trip up the coast. Professional yachtmen tried to persuade them not to attempt to go to sea, but they did not heed the worning, sea, but they did not freed the warning, and sailed away. In making a long tack toward Brigantine Beach the yacht was carried on the dangerous bar outside the Inlet.

The mast shapped off and the boat be-gan pounding on the sand. The captain of a large yacht saw the accident, but having on board a number of passengers, he did not care to endanger their lives by going too near the bar.

While the five men were climbing to their craft, momentarily expecting to be their craft, momentarily expecting to be washed to their death, a hero in the person of John Johnson, a Swedish fisherman, went to the rescue in a frail gasoline launch. He did not falter in the face of the storm, and after a hard struggle, in which his little boat was toesed about by the waves, he managed to get along side the Virginia and took the five man off.

Later in the atternoon Thomas and Howard Butler, sons of Congressman Butler, of Pennsylvania, were rescued from drowning by the government life-saving crew, after their little boat had saving crew, after their fittle poat had been overturned in a heavy sea off Long-port. Both swam to the capsized craft but were being carried out to sea in the strong current, when their calls for help were heard by the life-savers. They were much exhausted when rescued.

Train Plunges Into the River, A dispatch from Bristol, Va., says: As a result of a washout, a freight train on the Virginia and Southwestern Raitroad ran off a trestle at Moccasia river at 2 o'clock yesterday b gine and eight cars loaded with coal plunging into the river, killing a brake-man and a fireman and seriously injur-ng another. The train was running at a high rate of speed when it struck the trestle across Moccasin river. It was very dark, and the engineer and fireman did not see the danger until they were within fifteen feet of the trestle. The brakeman and fireman were caught in the wreck and their bodies pinioned under the cars in the water, and were not reached by the wrecking crew until yesterday afternoon.

The river was very high, but as the trestle had stood against water much higher than it was yesterday morning, the engineer did not think there was any danger, and was running probably thirty or forty miles an hour when he struck the weakened trestle.

The engineer was severely injured, but managed to keep above the water, and floated down the river a considerable distance until he succeeded in reaching the shore. The property loss Excitement at a Bank.

Sixty Chicago policemen were overwhelmed yesterday by a mad rush of men and women who were determined to get the first money paid out of the vaults of the ruined Milwaukee Avenue State Bank. Receiver Fetzer had made arrangements to pay 20 per cent to 5,000 of the 22,000 depositors, and everybody was anxious to be among the

At daybreak the crowds commenced to gather around the bank, and by 80'clock gather around the bank, and by 80 clock the bank was surrounded by 5,000 people. Sixty policemen had been sent to the bank, but they were unable to handle the crowd, the greater part of which was unable to understand the English language. Forty more officers were finally sent to the bank, and order

It seemed impossible to make the de-positors comprehend that although only 5,000 were to be paid yesterday, the others would be paid just as much withothers would be paid just as much with-in the next few days. At one time the crowd threatened to fairly storm the bank, as, waving their pass books in the air, they rushed for the doors, shouting in Bohemian, Polish, Norwegian and Italian.
